A Birdsboro RD mother of four and a Linfield construction worker were killed early Saturday morning when a car driven by an 18 year old Reading youth who admitted having "15 or 20 beers" at a party earlier in the evening careened off the road into a restaurant parking lot on Route 422 about 15 miles west of Pottstown.

ELDERLY MAN, WHO GOT NEW HOME DIES

Wife Hospitalized; Couple Shunned Modern Life

William Reitnauer, 76, died Sunday afternoon in Pottstown hospital where his wife Annie, 78, is recovering from a heart attack and pneumonia.

He was stricken at his home and rushed to the hospital. His wife was told of her husband's death by a doctor. A hospital official said, "She was shocked. Too shocked, I believe, to really realize that her husband was dead. I believe as the night passes she'll begin to know what it means."

Mr. and Mrs. Reitnauer were inseparable. They lived together on their farm and in their pre-Revolutionary home since their marriage more than 50 years ago.

They had a home, their land, and each other. That's all they asked for life.

WILLIE, as the white bearded gentleman was known, Tuesday moved into the new house. (Continued on Page Three)

Alarm Tools Without Reason

A fire alarm at borough hall sounded at 7:17 a. m. Sunday morning.

But there was no fire. A short circuit apparently caused the alarm's quick blast.

The same thing occurred May 21 during an electric storm.

We Have Not Forgotten!

The scene above was repeated all across the area and nation during the weekend as preparations were made to observe Memorial Day. Cubs, Scouts, veterans, police all joined in preparing the tributes to the dead of the nation's wars. Repeated today during ceremonies will be the promise made to fallen comrades after each war, "We will not forget," and the ceremonies themselves will be proof that "We have not forgotten."

Salvation Army Is Host to 300

The Salvation Army men cadets band and male chorus from the training college of New York City, entertained Sunday more than 300 Pottstonians in the Citadel, celebrating the 80th anniversary of the organization.

This was the last appearance for the 32 members before receiving their commissions as Salvation Army officers June 13.

The hour and a half sacred concert was the biggest event of a week long celebration of National Salvation Army week.

Arriving at 9:50 a. m. Sunday, the band participated in the 10:45 a. m. services at the Citadel and gave concerts at Pottstown and Memorial hospitals. The Citadel concert was to be an open-air service at Memorial park but because of wet grounds was re-scheduled for the Citadel.

At 6 p. m. the group marched down High street and conducted services at the corner of High and Hanover streets before playing for the 7 p. m. evangelistic services in the Citadel. They returned to the college Sunday night.

Nine Teen-agers Beaten; Youth Gang is Arrested

SPORADIC RAIN IS FORECAST FOR TODAY

Low Temperatures To Continue Into Tomorrow

Memorial Day's weather will be on the cloudy side, after the weekend began with rain Saturday amounting to nearly a half inch.

There will be a few periods of rain during the day, with cloudiness and chilly weather continuing into tomorrow.

The heavy overcast kept the thermometer on an even keel, with temperatures varying only five degrees during Sunday.

The low this morning will be 55, the high today about 65, and easterly winds will dim any hopes of taking advantage of the beginning of the swimming season.

There isn't much of a chance last Memorial Day's violent and damaging electrical storm will happen again. Total rainfall today will be less than a half inch, but at long intervals to break up the day.

GOLDWATER SEES GOP INCREASE

Says Democrats Will Retain Control

TOO MANY SOUTHERNERS ARE SEEKING OFFICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, said Sunday it is impossible for the GOP to win control of the Senate in the fall elections.

"There are just too many Southerners running for election," Goldwater said. "So what we're hoping to do is to hold our own and I believe we can pick up from two to four seats."

The Senate now includes 65 Democrats and 35 Republicans. One-third of the seats are at stake in the voting next Nov. 8.

But Goldwater said he believes the Republicans' best chance of taking over a Democratic-held Senate seat is in Wyoming, where Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney is not seeking re-election.

"We have, I think," Goldwater said, "a growing good chance in West Virginia, Michigan, and as of now, maybe a 50-50 chance in Montana."

In West Virginia, Democratic Sen. Jennings Randolph goes up against GOP Gov. Cecil H. Underwood. Sen. Pat McNamara faces a re-election battle in Michigan and 83-year-old Sen. James E. Murray is retiring in Montana.

Goldwater said he expected Senate races also to develop in Rhode Island and Oregon.

In Rhode Island, Sen. Theodore F. Green (D) is not seeking re-election. And in Oregon, the Democrats have nominated Mrs. Richard L. Neuberger to succeed her late husband in the Senate. Republicans have picked former Gov. Elmo Smith to oppose her.

Goldwater, in answer to questions, said he is not seeking the party's Republican vice-presidential nomination but would accept if offered it.

Jewels Worth Million Stolen From Actress

LONDON (AP) — Sophia Loren called in Scotland Yard early Sunday and reported she had been robbed of jewels worth about a million dollars. The Italian actress is in Britain making a film version of George Bernard Shaw's "The Millionaire."

Police were told the gems were in a leather attache case stolen last night from a chest of drawers in a rented country mansion where Miss Loren is living.

Movie Producer Pierre Rove said the jewels were mainly emeralds, diamonds and rubies which "meant more than just wealth to Miss Loren—they were milestones on her struggle to success."

"She was very upset," Rove said, upon discovering the loss when she returned home after meeting her movie producer husband, Carlo Ponti, on his arrival at London Airport last night. She was described as too upset to make an exact inventory.

"There is no justice," she wailed.

With detectives still clumping around the house and searching its spacious grounds, Miss Loren retired to bed with the announcement that she would see nobody.

The detectives took photographs of marks on a window.

Rove said the film star recently wore part of the jewelry — a ring, a necklace and earrings — for a scene in "The Millionaire" and the film company insured them for 30,000 pounds ($40,000).

A precise assessment of the over-all value will take some time and will involve checks in several countries. Rove said he believed some of the jewels may not have been insured.

Eichmann, whose arrest by Israeli secret service agents has been cloaked in mystery, is released now, following the initial shock of his capture after 15 years on the run.

He is said to regard himself as a doomed man, but believes he has a responsibility toward history to throw light on the Nazi effort to effect "a final solution of the Jewish question."

Reports from Buenos Aires said Israeli agents picked him up in Argentina and smuggled him out on an Israeli airliner that carried delegates to Argentine Independence Day celebrations.

Although he is now depicted as one of the most infamous criminals of all time, the Israeli public knew relatively little about Eichmann or the relentless hunt for him.

Even his origins are uncertain. Nazi files show Eichmann was born in Solingen in the Ruhr area March 19, 1906. But there are persistent reports he was born a year earlier in Austria. Others say he was born near Tel Aviv.

Premier David Ben-Gurion electrified Parliament last week by announcing his capture.

Israelis are horrified by stories that have since cropped up.

There's the story by Joel Brand, a wartime Jewish agency official, who testified in another court case that Eichmann offered to trade

NEW QUAKE ARE REPORTED IN CONCEPCION

Nine Tremors Renew Near Panic at Night

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Nine more earth tremors rocked quake-stricken Concepcion in south-central Chile Saturday night and early Sunday.

The city of 100,000, staggered by two giant quakes a week ago, was driven to near panic when the strongest convulsion struck about 3½ hours after midnight and toppled dozens of homes.

There was no immediate report of new casualties.

The latest tremors came as southern Chile began a slow, agonizing recovery from a week-long onslaught of quakes and tidal waves. Many officials said the recovery would take years, perhaps decades.

They predicted the final death count from the disaster would reach 5,000. Damage was estimated at nearly a billion dollars.

An international mercy airlift continued flying doctors, nurses and tons of food, clothing and medical equipment to Valdivia, Puerto Montt and other disaster centers.

Government officials said 400 tons of badly needed food, medicine and clothing already have been flown to distribution points from the United States, Canada and various Latin-American countries. U. S. planes also were bringing in seven field hospitals.

Components of one arrived Saturday night aboard 16 planes.

With water supplies contaminated in several of the stricken cities, one of the immediate threats was an outbreak of epidemics.

Steelworkers are Idled By Production Cutback

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Thousands of steelworkers are out of work in some sections of the country because of cutbacks in steel production.

A decline in steel production during the summer months is not unusual. But some areas have been hit harder this year than usual, apparently due to plentiful steel supplies.

In the Youngstown, Ohio, section, mills will be producing at only 22 per cent of capacity next week. This will be the lowest rate since the depression in the 1930s. Slated for layoffs in that region next week are an additional 4,000 workers. Thousands of others will go on shorter work weeks.

U. S. Steel says its cutbacks have been limited to the Pittsburgh region. Steelmaking facilities at its Clairton, Pa., and Donora, Pa., works were curtailed last week. And just Saturday, the firm announced two blast furnaces are being taken out of operation at the Edgar Thomson works at Braddock, Pa.

U. S. Steel declined to say how many workers have been laid off, but union sources estimated some 3,000 to 3,500 men have been furloughed.

Other developments: Sharon Steel is suspending all iron and steel production at its Roemer works at Farrell, Pa., for at least one week.

Youngstown Sheet & Tube is shutting down its Brier Hill works and reducing production at its Campbell works.

Republic Steel's Truscon division at Youngstown was idle last week but is scheduled to resume production Tuesday.

Production in the Buffalo, N.Y., area is down to 69.9 per cent, which equals the lowest production of the 1958-59 recession.

Production has been declining in the Birmingham, Ala., district the past six weeks and is expected to dip to 66.7 per cent of capacity this week.

London to Moscow Express Inaugurated

LONDON (AP) — Amid the suburban trains leaving London's grimy Liverpool Street station Sunday morning was a shiny new express: the 10:05 for Moscow.

The inaugural first-class train is scheduled to reach the Soviet capital Tuesday evening after main stops in Berlin, Frankfurt-on-Oder, Warsaw and Minsk. Passengers have one change, for the English Channel steamer crossing.

Most of the passengers aboard Sunday were getting off at intermediate stops, but about 20 were booked all the way to Moscow. The London-Moscow express is to run four times a week in each direction. Round-trip fare is the equivalent of $134.12 with $61.60 additional for a sleeper and meals are extra.

Fraud Charges Filed Against War Veterans

ANCONA, Italy (AP) — Fraud charges have been filed against 100 wounded war veterans on the ground they accepted money for a vacation at an Italian spa but did not take the baths. Ten hotel owners at the mountain resort of Fiuggi, between Rome and Naples, also have been indicted.

Police said veterans' associations in this Adriatic port city sent the veterans to Fiuggi for a "rest cure" but many didn't take the baths although taking money from the associations to pay for them.

MINES ARE CLEARED

OSLO (AP) — A total of 1½ million land mines, 600,000 shells and 10,000 bombs have been cleared from Norway since the German occupation ended in 1945, an army spokesman reported.

Economic, Political Problems Face New Turk Government

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The country is nearly broke again, despite receipt of a 50-million-dollar loan from West Germany only four weeks ago.

Another is political. Despite the apparent success of the coup, the tasks of revising the constitution and organizing free elections are promised appear formidable.

Ex-President Celal Bayer, Menderes and several members of his Cabinet were in protective custody at the Army War College here. Their wives were reported housed in Bayer's former presidential palace.

A report circulated that Menderes and some of his aides may be moved to Yassi Ada Island, a Turkish naval base in the Marmara Sea off Istanbul, to minimize the chance of any public disturbance. Military authorities declined comment.

Two members of the Menderes Cabinet—former Defense Minister Semi Ergin and former Health Minister Lufti Kirdar—were released. Also freed were 95 deputies of Menderes' Democratic party.

Not all the Democratic deputies were originally arrested, but usually reliable sources said more than 200 were detained.

Among others held were 12 generals and various federal and provincial officials. One was Akkemur Kilic, former press director for Menderes and former Turkish press attaché in Washington.

Officials of the new government did not say whether Menderes and his ministers would stand trial. Gursel himself has said there would be no punishment.

Investigators were looking into records, however, to learn if there were any financial or other misdeeds.

Gursel is serving as his own defense minister.

Among the key personalities in the new Cabinet he named Saturday night is Selim Sarper, 61, a career diplomat and a graduate of the Istanbul law faculty, who becomes foreign minister. Sarper is a veteran of 33 years in the Turkish foreign service. Among his most recent posts were assignments to the Turkish delegation to the United Nations and to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. His last post was as secretary general of the Foreign Ministry in Ankara.

150 Missing or Killed In Philippines Flood

MANILA (AP) — The Philippines' worst flood since 1947 left at least 150 persons dead or missing in Manila and five suburban communities Monday. Officials reported more than 5,000 homeless and estimated property damage at nearly two million dollars.

The deluge, from a monsoon that dumped a foot of rain in 36 hours, struck early Saturday. It swept through "squatter" areas along the river banks on the outskirts of Manila, tearing apart clusters of makeshift shanties.

The bodies of 77 victims, drowned or electrocuted, have been recovered from the ruins.

Following in the wake of tropical Storm Lucille, the rains also sent floods pouring down the suburban foothills into Quezon City, Caloocan Town, San Juan and two other communities.

With waters receding, government agencies and the Red Cross were able to step up relief operations. A Red Cross spokesman said more than 15,000 persons received food and clothing Sunday despite continued rains.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

FEVER CONVULSIONS

● Cleansing Dentures
● Constipation

Q. My 2-year-old daughter has had several fever convulsions. The doctor has advised me not to have her vaccinated against whooping cough and the other diseases. Is this wise?

A. The general rule is not to immunize a child who is not well. A history of convulsions would suggest that the child is not completely fit, and in such cases, protective shots are not usually given unless there is some risk of infection. Your physician is the only one in a position to decide when and if to withhold immunization.

Q. Would a strong acid solution be suitable for removing tartar from false teeth?

A. No. The use of strong chemical solutions and abrasive powders on dentures roughens the denture and encourages deposition of more tartar. If the denture is heavily encrusted with material it would be best to take it to your dentist for cleansing and polishing. Afterwards, gentle brushing with soap and water should keep it free of deposits.

The Rev. Wallace Flood, pastor of the First Baptist church, offered prayer at the services. All of Pottstown's veterans' organizations will be taking part in the continuation of memorial services today.

About 600 persons are expected to participate in the parade and ceremonies.

Two persons were killed in the Pottstown area early Saturday, and 13 accidental deaths had been reported in the State by late Sunday. A total of 310 persons died nationwide over the Memorial weekend, 1959. Experts see more than 350 deaths by the time this week-end ends, due to highway accidents and other mishaps.

The new house was a thing of joy to the Reitnauers. They had lived in one corner of a fieldstone house on Hill Church-Landis Store road, ten miles northwest of Boyertown, that was nearly two centuries old.

After the house collapsed on April 7, they still shunned leaving it. Finally they agreed to move and neighbors built them the new home.

Neighbors were appalled when the Reitnauer's living conditions came to light after the collapse of the house.

Then neighbors chipped in to start them on a new life. Funeral services are being arranged by Ott Funeral home, 111 North Reading avenue, Boyertown.

The police gave chase and arrested the roving gang near King street and Gable avenue. One boy concealed a knife and a pistol that looked like a real automatic was found in the front seat of the car.

The teen-agers were taken to borough hall for questioning. They said they started their assaults after attending a dance at Penn Village.

Fence posts used in one attack were torn from the administration building at Penn Village.

The gang will be charged with juvenile offenses in Pottstown, Stowe and Norristown. They were turned over to Norristown police because their car was stolen in that borough. What is a Great NEWSPAPER?

Even among journalists there is a great variation in the answers to this question.

But it would appear that the outstanding newspapermen in the nation agree a great newspaper is the one that has the confidence of its public.

Integrity, fairness, willingness to take up unpopular and unprofitable causes when circumstances demand, responsible leadership and the putting of public service above private gain are some of the criteria used in determining a great newspaper.

The Pottstown Mercury does not pretend to be as great as some of the great metropolitan newspapers.

But in the Pottstown area it has the confidence of its public. It has the respect of its readers, and its advertisers know its great prestige adds luster to their sales messages.

The Mercury is one of the most honored daily newspapers in the East — and that's a great honor because its journalistic competition is with some of the largest newspapers in the nation. It is most honored because it gears its editorial coverage to the super speed of the times. Its responsive readership makes it a compelling medium for advertisers.

The Mercury twice-gained national recognition for notable achievement in the field of journalism in "The Big Story".

The Mercury won myriads of honors among Pennsylvania daily newspapers in better writing contests.

The Mercury, for "outstanding public service in the field of fire prevention," won the National Fire Prevention award, its gold medal and $500.

The Pottstown Mercury achieved highest national honors many times for public safety campaigns, as well as first honors in Pennsylvania for a highway safety campaign.

The Mercury achieved coast-to-coast renown for outstanding editorial policies and vigorous editorials on local affairs.

ENTERPRISE GOES HAND IN HAND WITH EDITORIAL EXCELLENCE IN THE MERCURY.

A newspaper which continually wins so many coveted honors for public service of this character becomes a mighty influence for civic pride and progress in the community.

By the same token, advertisers have found readers of The Mercury have unbounded faith and confidence in the advertising columns as they have in the editorial policies of this great daily. Editorial achievement leads to business success.

The trouble with worrying so much about your "security" in the future is that you feel so insecure in the present.—(Harlan Miller)

Lasting Words
It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

Now More Than Ever
REAL peace in the world can only be obtained by replacing the philosophy of Pilate with the Prince of Peace. War, always cruel but once governed by rules, has degenerated to a state of barbarism.

"However, there is hope for the world because war has reached a stage of absurdity, and even the most heartless of the power-mad rulers and war mongers do not want to be typed as absurd."

Those words were spoken on the bloodiest battlefield of the Civil War. They were spoken by a former governor of Maryland, Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin, a few years ago.

They are more appropriate today, when more unrest is being generated in this world, than when they were spoken almost a decade ago.

Governor McKeldin explained then he believed war was absurd because each side knows it has the power to destroy, but each side also knows it, too, can be destroyed.

It seemed appropriate that the warning should come at Sharpsburg, Md., there every year townsfolk unfurl their flags and dust off the bunting to refresh the memory of an often forgotten battle about the great Battle of Antietam fought there 98 years ago.

It was after this bitter, bloody struggle in the surrounding countryside in 1862 that President Abraham Lincoln decided to issue his Emancipation Proclamation, freeing the slaves.

This battle of the Blue and Gray, fought on Sept. 11, 1862, just 70 miles northwest of Washington, D. C., was the bloodiest single day of fighting ever recorded on the North American continent.

Union forces under Gen. George B. McClellan met the Confederate troops of Gen. Robert E. Lee just north of the Potomac river.

Some 130,000 men engaged in the battle. Historians are in conflict as to who won. The battle meant the holding of Southern forces from further advances north until the day of Gettysburg. Antietam is also hailed as a great heroic action on the part of the smaller Confederate forces.

It was on this battlefield, at the invitation of the people of Sharpsburg, Governor McKeldin, came to speak out to a world even more deeply divided now than were the states during the Civil war.

It is through the efforts of the people of the battlefield town of Sharpsburg that, each year, folk for miles around are called together on May 30 to recall the story of Antietam, and at the same time to mourn the men who have died in all our wars.

In a large tree-covered cemetery, high on a hill just east of town, and overlooking the battlefield, are buried 5000 men of the North who died there. Dominating this national shrine is a striking monument—a colossal granite statue of a Union soldier.

The statue has been dedicated, not to the troops of the North or the soldiers of the Confederacy, but simply "To those who fought, not for themselves, but for their country."

Memories of those who died in the War Between the States are cherished through history, but personal contact with that period grows weaker with the passing of relatives and friends of those who died at Antietam.

At this time every year, the battlefield town spruces up for a long street parade and appropriate ceremonies at the national cemetery.

President Lincoln, saddened by the heavy loss of life, inspected the blood-soaked battlefield and saw the sprawled bodies of the dead who had fallen in the cause of what they thought right.

Here on this battlefield have been still other great men.

Sgt. William McKinley, later another President of the United States, fought at Antietam. The sons of America's leading men of letters of the time also fought here—the sons of Oliver Wendell Holmes, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Daniel Webster and James Russell Lowell.

Respect for the Flag
To the Editor: I am going to stand on High Street Monday to watch the Memorial Day parade. I am going to watch the men there. They'll be wearing hats. I wonder how many will bother to remove their hats when the flag passes.

I know, this is just a little thing, but it disturbs me.

Memory
To the Editor: On this Memorial day I would like to tell someone about my friend Jim. That wasn't his real name, of course. His faith was a very real thing to him. In civilian life, Jim's chief interest was in showing youthful delinquents a better way of life.

It happened in a tiny mountain village in Italy in World War II.

The front had been stagnant for some time. Suddenly, without warning, the enemy laid a withering barrage on our bivouac area. Someone screamed "Medic, medic."

Jim started to run to see what he could do to help, when a piece of shrapnel caved in his chest.

As his friends gathered about him, Jim said, "Pray for me, I'm dying."

And one answered and said, "No, Jim, you'll be OK. The medic is coming."

Presently another said, "Sure, Jim, we'll pray for you."

In a whisper came the reply, "Thanks," and so Jim died and the government sent its regrets.

Especially on Memorial Day, I think of America's need of men like Jim.

Why Reds Look Glum
To the Editor: Well we all can relax now. I heard the first joke about the U2 incident. For awhile I didn't think there would be any jokes about it. And that would be bad.

We Americans have a tradition of being able to laugh when the chips are down. We can make jokes about ourselves. That kept us going in the early part of World War II. As long as we can laugh in any situation we'll come out on top.

The joke? Well it's really a poor one. But at least it's a start and if you can stand it here goes.

The Worry Clinic
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

EMILY M., aged 19, is a shy college Sophomore.

"Dr. Crane, you have often told us that if we act the way we'd like to be, then we'll soon be the way we act," she quoted me.

"But sometimes I feel so unhappy. I am not in the mood to act gay and friendly."

"Instead, I want to hide away from the public and grieve alone. I'm not popular and don't have many dates."

"Other girls are far more attractive, so I grow blue and discouraged. And I don't feel like acting gay, as you have recommended."

Much of our action is due to coercion. We don't like to brush our teeth or get up early to go to work.

So everybody must go into a huddle with himself and decide whether his brain is to rule his behavior, or his emotions are to dominate his brain.

Nobody else can make this decision for you. If you are sad and disconsolate, or angry or afraid, or mean and hateful, or prejudiced and selfish, your emotions are dominating your brain.

Are you going to assert yourself and revolt against this slavery to the bad emotions that keep you friendless, miserable and disconsolate?

Inside Television
By EVE STARR

STARLITEM: Samuel Goldwyn is what one might call a maverick among movie producers. He has always gone his own way, even though his name has always been an integral part of the biggest picture company in the world, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Metro was a small distributing company back around 1912. Goldwyn put some money in it, and later Louis B. Mayer joined to put the company into the production end of the business. Whereupon Goldwyn, the maverick, got out. He never did like L. B. Mayer.

In the end, Goldwyn came out ahead. For one thing, he's still producing pictures. He has never been beholden to anyone. He has a list of personally-produced pictures to his credit that puts him up there with DeMille.

He doesn't yet qualify for the title Grand Old Man of the picture business simply because he's still too active to be considered old.

At 72, Goldwyn is still looking ahead. He's just not the looking-back kind. At the moment he is all steamed up about his possible entry into TV—on, of course, his own terms.

He has put together a package of 52 of his pictures and is offering these, on a lease basis, to the networks under the title of "The Goldwyn Theatre." Not even MGM attempted to offer its own impressive backlog of old movies for a regularly scheduled network show; all old movies to date have been sold on a station-by-station basis.

Note that Goldwyn plans to lease, not sell his pictures. Most of them are in color and he is looking ahead to the day when a color set will be in practically every home and he can lease his pictures all over again.

Beyond that, he is patiently waiting for the advent of pay TV, which he firmly believes to be inevitable. That will give him a third crack at the leasing business. Before he gets through, he probably stands to make more money with each picture on TV than the pictures made in theaters.

GOLDWYN APPARENTLY isn't concerned about the reaction of theater owners to his grand plan. A new Goldwyn picture is almost always an event, and no theater owner in his right mind would refuse to play one simply out of spite.

If the Goldwyn backlog on TV is going to keep people out of the theaters, the theater men can only wait until a new picture comes along.

However, I rather doubt that much is going to happen before the Fall of 1961. There is virtually no network time left at this point, and I just don't see Goldwyn allowing his prize package to wind up as a daytime show.

Sam Goldwyn is going to want prime evening time—and he will no doubt get it. He generally does get exactly what he wants.

Pottstown Sketches

The sharpest editorial blast came from the Durban Sunday Tribune, which declared in a front page bannerline article: "South Africa is living on its nerves. Tension, anxiety and uncertainty grow daily as the government implacably pursues policies that not only anger the world but are giving the country's internal economy the biggest battering of decades."

Verwoerd speaks Tuesday at Bloemfontein in Orange Free State, center of jubilee 50th anniversary celebrations of the founding of the South African union.

During the period of his invalidism Verwoerd has been bombarded more and more by businessmen to ease his government's apartheid—racial segregation—policies, which resulted in the black revolt here and brought condemnation from much of the world.

Businessmen are being severely pinched by foreign trade boycotts, by "disinvestments" from abroad through foreign shareholders selling out here, and by growing fear among foreigners to invest in South Africa while racial unrest and political uncertainty continue.

Verwoerd's answer so far has been that these people may be well intentioned but do not have sufficient facts to judge the situation. His proposed concessions so far to this country's black majority have been so minor they have been ridiculed in the English-language press.

When Verwoerd speaks Tuesday the country will be under the 64th day of a state of emergency. About 20,000 are still in jail—18,000 blacks and nearly 1,900 other persons of all races held without trial as suspected political subversives.

The Johannesburg Sunday Times called for a national convention to plot a course to save the country, bridge the growing gulf between English-speaking and Afrikaans-speaking whites and plan a course for racial peace.

Sgt. Tarlecky, of the Thorndale barracks, mentioned that lights aren't needed as much on concrete highways as on macadam roads. Well, this is a macadam road and there are no overhead lights anywhere on the stretch of road.

I personally think there are more sharp curves along Route 100 than there are along Deadman's Run on Route 83—and in many cases there aren't even the usual precautionary signs.

I hope The Mercury will be able to do something to protect the Route 100 driver.

I have never seen anyone work so hard at being an "oblivious" (what he called Adenauer's West German constituents).

Of course he can always console himself with the thought that he belongs to a club which boasts such illustrious names on its roster as Nebuchadnezzar, Rasputin, Hitler, and Mussolini, for whom a special section of Hell has been set aside so they will not be a bad influence on the other purgatorial inmates.

To the Editor: Well we all can relax now. I heard the first joke about the U2 incident. For awhile I didn't think there would be any jokes about it. And that would be bad.

We Americans have a tradition of being able to laugh when the chips are down. We can make jokes about ourselves. That kept us going in the early part of World War II. As long as we can laugh in any situation we'll come out on top.

The joke? Well it's really a poor one. But at least it's a start and if you can stand it here goes.

Powers' wife, worried about her hubby, flew over Russia to check on him.

The Russians, with their telescopes, looked up and said, "Oh! No! Not U2."

Nobody else can make this decision for you. If you are sad and disconsolate, or angry or afraid, or mean and hateful, or prejudiced and selfish, your emotions are dominating your brain.

Are you going to assert yourself and revolt against this slavery to the bad emotions that keep you friendless, miserable and disconsolate?

Inside Television
By EVE STARR

STARLITEM: Samuel Goldwyn is what one might call a maverick among movie producers. He has always gone his own way, even though his name has always been an integral part of the biggest picture company in the world, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Metro was a small distributing company back around 1912. Goldwyn put some money in it, and later Louis B. Mayer joined to put the company into the production end of the business. Whereupon Goldwyn, the maverick, got out. He never did like L. B. Mayer.

In the end, Goldwyn came out ahead. For one thing, he's still producing pictures. He has never been beholden to anyone. He has a list of personally-produced pictures to his credit that puts him up there with DeMille.

He doesn't yet qualify for the title Grand Old Man of the picture business simply because he's still too active to be considered old.

At 72, Goldwyn is still looking ahead. He's just not the looking-back kind. At the moment he is all steamed up about his possible entry into TV—on, of course, his own terms.

He has put together a package of 52 of his pictures and is offering these, on a lease basis, to the networks under the title of "The Goldwyn Theatre." Not even MGM attempted to offer its own impressive backlog of old movies for a regularly scheduled network show; all old movies to date have been sold on a station-by-station basis.

Note that Goldwyn plans to lease, not sell his pictures. Most of them are in color and he is looking ahead to the day when a color set will be in practically every home and he can lease his pictures all over again.

Beyond that, he is patiently waiting for the advent of pay TV, which he firmly believes to be inevitable. That will give him a third crack at the leasing business. Before he gets through, he probably stands to make more money with each picture on TV than the pictures made in theaters.

GOLDWYN APPARENTLY isn't concerned about the reaction of theater owners to his grand plan. A new Goldwyn picture is almost always an event, and no theater owner in his right mind would refuse to play one simply out of spite.

If the Goldwyn backlog on TV is going to keep people out of the theaters, the theater men can only wait until a new picture comes along.

However, I rather doubt that much is going to happen before the Fall of 1961. There is virtually no network time left at this point, and I just don't see Goldwyn allowing his prize package to wind up as a daytime show.

Sam Goldwyn is going to want prime evening time—and he will no doubt get it. He generally does get exactly what he wants.

The sharpest editorial blast came from the Durban Sunday Tribune, which declared in a front page bannerline article: "South Africa is living on its nerves. Tension, anxiety and uncertainty grow daily as the government implacably pursues policies that not only anger the world but are giving the country's internal economy the biggest battering of decades."

Businessmen are being severely pinched by foreign trade boycotts, by "disinvestments" from abroad through foreign shareholders selling out here, and by growing fear among foreigners to invest in South Africa while racial unrest and political uncertainty continue.

Interpreting The News Tensions Increase In South Africa

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Associated Press Observer

Demands are building up for Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd to indicate what he intends to do about what some here regard as the greatest challenge in South African history—the racial problem.

Verwoerd is scheduled Tuesday to make his first public speech since April 9, when a white assailant shot him in the head.

He was shot at the Johannesburg trade fair, just after making a speech which failed to answer the demands of his critics—chiefly opposition politicians, editors and businessmen—but he survived as sort of a martyr to many of his Nationalist followers.

He has publicly attributed his survival to "divine providence," enabling him to continue to lead South Africa on the course of racial segregation—which he deems the wisest despite heavy criticism here and abroad.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Remember That May?... Night Light as Day...

★ SIGHT—Many a Pottstown person will recall a memorable May night 50 years ago. It was on May 18, 1910. It was an abnormally bright night. Those who saw it will never forget it, for the bright light followed an anxious period in many quarters. Some folks prepared for the end of the world. They sold their earthly belongings. A sect moved into a high mountain to meet their maker. Some dove into tornado cellars. The end of the world? It was to come this May 18 night when the earth moved through the tail of Halley's comet. Remember? Of course, nothing happened. No magnetic or electrical effects could be detected definitely. Nor did history record what happened to the frightened who thought the world was coming to an end...

HALEY'S comet was the subject of a major triumph for astronomy. Though comets had been recorded in Chinese annals as far back as 2369 B.C., it remained for England's Edmund Halley to discover that some return periodically. In 1682 Halley predicted that a comet seen that year would return again in 1758. His prediction was fulfilled, and the comet was named for him. It returned again in 1835 when Mark Twain was born and again when he died in 1910. Its appearance caused widespread excitement. There was a rush to buy binoculars and telescopes. President William Howard Taft went to the naval observatory to watch. Parties were held on rooftops. Church attendance increased. The New York Times hired an astronomer. Since 1910 there has been a dearth of major comets, but anyone who manages to live 25 more years will be able to see Halley's comet, the most famous of them all.

★ FOR CENTURIES the appearance of a comet filled men with terror. Battles stopped in mid-career. Kings abdicated. Whole populations feared the end of the earth. Ancient men believed a comet presaged an impending catastrophe. Medieval Europeans prayed, "From the Devil, the Turk, and the Comet, good Lord, deliver us." Astronomers now agree that a comet is one thing the human race need not worry about. The chances of a smashup between the earth and the nucleus in a comet's head are extremely remote. The earth can pass through a comet's tail with no ill effects whatsoever. In fact, it has done so twice in the last century.

BUT A COMET remains one of the most awesome and beautiful sights that a sky-watcher can behold. Its head consists of a bright nucleus surrounded by a somewhat fuzzy coma. From the coma a nebulous tail trails millions of miles across the heavens. The tail of one comet extended 200,000,000 miles—far enough to reach from the sun to Mars. Despite their size, comets have little mass. They are believed to be swarms of particles, few of them bigger than marbles. The nucleus is thought by some astronomers to be composed of meteoric materials and the ices of water, ammonia, and carbon dioxide. The tail may consist of gasses burned off the nucleus by solar radiation.

★ THOUGH COMETS belong to the solar system, astronomers do not know how they originated. Comets are less orderly than the planets, for they do not all orbit around the sun in the same direction any may even break up into meteors. Ninety percent of all visible meteors entering the earth's atmosphere come from comets. A comet's tail generally points away from the sun. This is believed to be caused by "light pressure." Radiation exerts such pressure that a man theoretically could be knocked down with a searchlight if it had sufficient brilliance. The particles in a comet's tail are the right size to be visibly affected by light pressure. So, if you're around in 1985, don't worry! Halley's comet won't harm you!

Your Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IN THE past I have written quite a bit about eye trouble in children and how to detect it. Now I think it's about time I discussed the matter of eye trouble in adults.

Any frequent or constant irritation of the eye should be investigated. If only a part of the eye is irritated, it might mean that a foreign particle, a speck of dirt, perhaps, is causing the trouble.

When you suspect that this is the case, I suggest that you pull the eyelid down over the eye. This induces tears which might be enough to wash the offender from the eye.

If it doesn't, try pouring a little lukewarm tap water into the eye.

All of you should interpret any disturbance of the eye's clearance as a danger signal, and one which calls for prompt attention.

The eye may become bloodshot. Perhaps a steamy, clouded look may occur, along with such symptoms as a scratchy irritated feeling, blurred vision, unusual sensitivity to light and an abnormal flow of tears.

Some types of conjunctivitis may be caused by irritation.

Again, the trouble may be helped by washing the eye with lukewarm water, or a solution of boric acid every hour. If you don't get relief quickly with these methods, see your doctor.

Chronic irritation usually produces redness of the edges of the eyelids and probably indicates an infection. This requires the services of a professional.

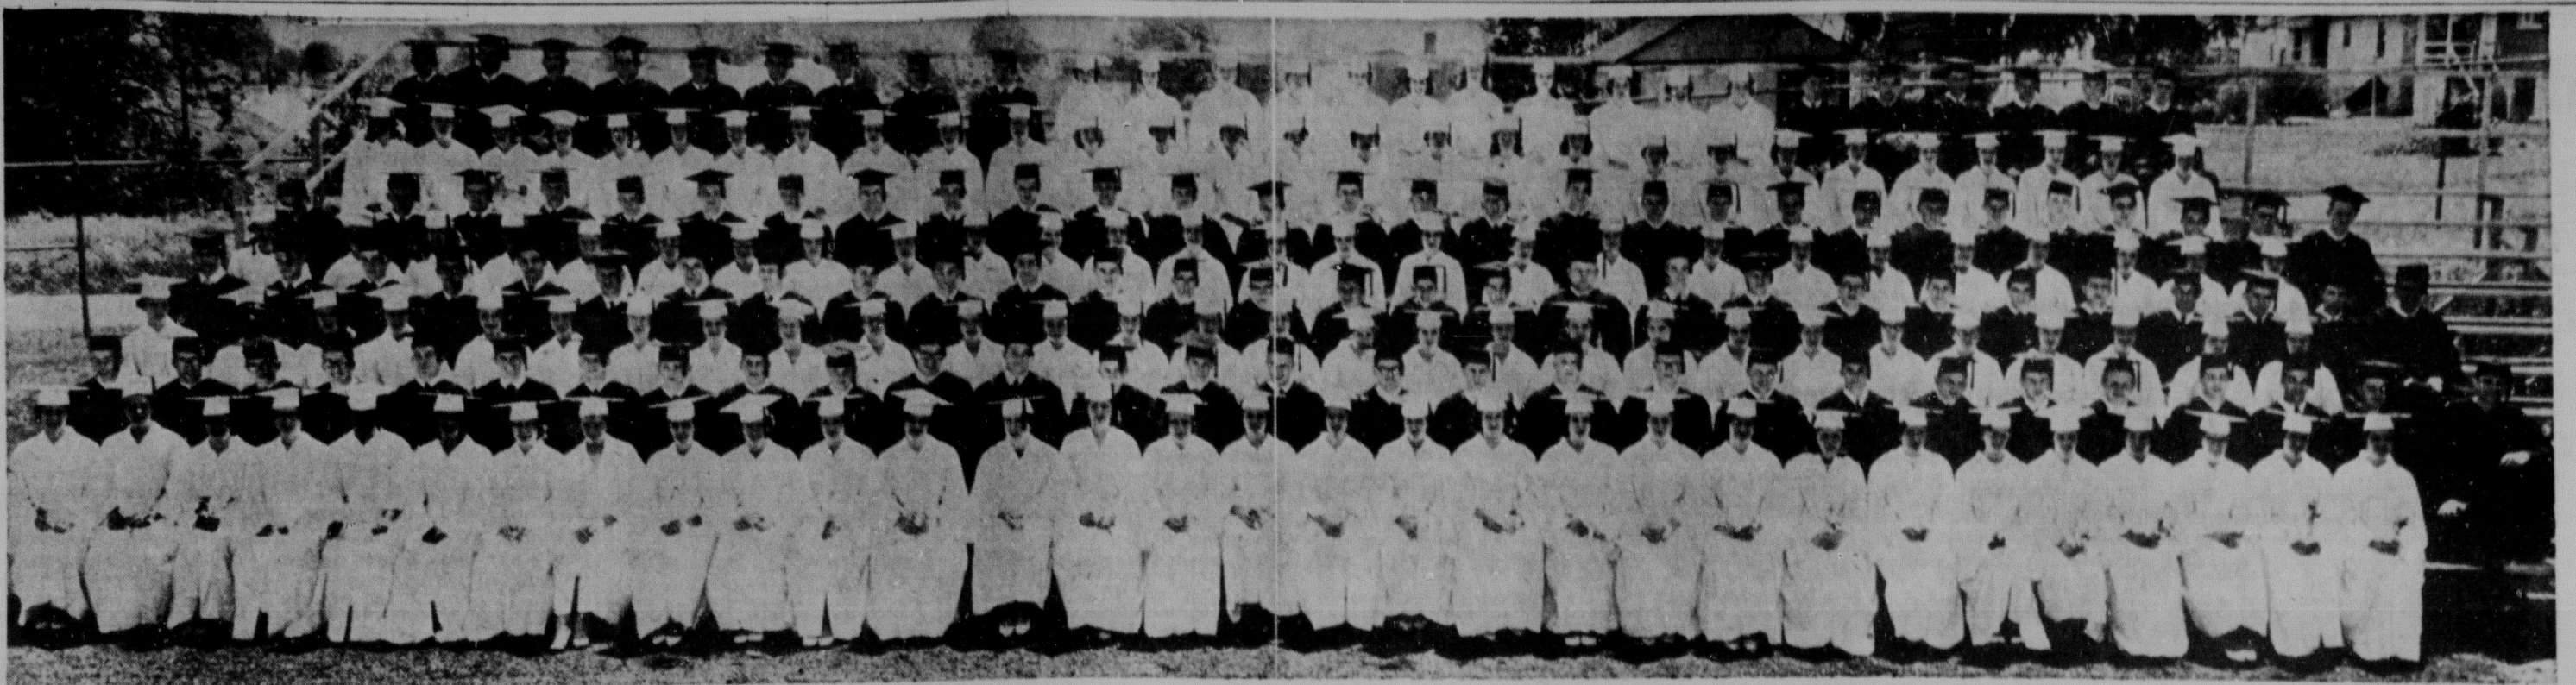

Your eyes are likely to grow red when you are tired. This is not unusual when it happens occasionally. However, if it occurs more and more frequently, it might mean you have visual errors that are causing abnormal fatigue.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
L. M. Z.: Can the constant use of mineral oils as a laxative be harmful to a child?
Could it eventually cause cancer?
Answer: Although the constant use of mineral oil has not been implicated as a cause of cancer, it is much better to control the bowels by diet and habit formation rather than by the use of medicine.

Sen. Scott Says Harold Stassen Influence Nil

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott (R-PA) said Sunday the influence of Harold Stassen in Pennsylvania politics is "virtually nil."

Stassen, President Eisenhower's former disarmament advisor, recently tried to block Pennsylvania delegates to the Republican national convention from endorsing Vice President Richard M. Nixon for President. His motion was defeated 69-1.

Scott, chairman of Pennsylvania GOP convention delegates, said Stassen's move was based on the false premise that Nixon would make a poor showing in the California primary election in June.

"I don't see how Governor Stassen can see all the way to California with clarity," Scott said. "But in any event, Pennsylvanians are accustomed to thinking for themselves."

Shady Spying Business Needed To Survive In a Shady World

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Spying is shady business, but it's needed for survival in a shady world.

That, in short, is the conclusion voiced by a number of religious authorities today, as nations seethed over the conduct of espionage.

"It belongs to that class of things that are morally ambiguous, but sometimes necessary," says the Rev. Dr. Daniel D. Williams, of Union Theological Seminary.

Both Christian and Jewish scholars offer a similar view—that espionage involves questionable behavior, but that it may be warranted by overriding facts of international life.

"It's an immoral act for what we think is a moral purpose—the defense of our country and ideals," says Rabbi Dr. Robert Gordis, of Jewish Theological Seminary, New York. "It's a tragic necessity, at best."

In other words, it demands deception, stealth and other activity that impinges on ethical tenets, but which in the face of circumstances, may serve a greater, overbalancing good.

"You can't divorce moral practice from reality," says the Rev. Dean Edmond Benard, dean of the School of Sacred Theology of the Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C.

"In an ideal world, espionage would not be morally justified. But this isn't that kind of world, and if we must have certain information to protect our nation against threats and subversion, our government has an obligation to get it."

Down through history, the spy has left a dubious, shadowy image, immersed in doubledealing, masquerade, prying into the privacy of others under false pretenses and sham. But it has remained a standard trade of nations.

"It is part of the general immorality of war," Dr. Gordis says. "It is one of the instrumentalities of war, and represents a kind of suspension of ethical principles, the same as on the battlefield."

"It's part of the tragic dilemma of existing in a world that doesn't live by moral principles. It sheds light on the tragic moral devices inhering in our civilization in not fulfilling the purposes it believes in."

Both the godly and ungodly rulers of Biblical days used spies. Scripture also speaks of a con-

Asks In Last Talk of Series If All We Seek Is Absence of War

A look at the status of "World Peace" was presented by the Rev. Albert E. Teske, pastor of Linfield United Church of Christ, Sunday morning.

The sermon was the last in a series on "social problems of our day."

"Commentators inform us that peace hangs by a very slender thread," the pastor said. He asked, "Is that all that we're looking for? Just the absence of war?"

"Jeremiah complained, 'Peace! Peace! There is no peace! And in this war of nerves today, too, there is an unsatisfactory peace.'

"With another Memorial day upon us, it does us good to ask ourselves, 'Are we working and praying and looking for world peace?' If not, then we should be."

"Memorial day should remind us all over again of the deeds of sacrifice, of the ideals of those who died, of the causes for which they gave their lives."

THE REV. TESKE reminded his congregation of "the horror of war" with a series of flashback illustrations of World War II and said, "War is Hell, war is heartbreak. There are still many rows of beds in veterans hospitals bearing soldiers without arms and legs, or with other terrible wounds."

He continued, "Because war is so terrible, we must continue to work and to pray, like never before. . . . We have to tie together all our efforts, meaning co-operation with others, examining history of the past, taking hold of our experiences, Education and 'brain-storming' and prayer, itself, will help us toward attaining world peace."

"Christ challenged His followers to 'love your enemies.' This means loving the unlovely—one of the most difficult things a man can be asked to do, one of the hardest imperatives Christ has given His disciples."

"Our Memorial day is not complete until we, too, dedicate ourselves anew to the cause of peace."

A meeting to arrange for the annual reunion of former pupils of Meeting House school scheduled for Saturday, June 27, was Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Kulp, Telford.

Present were: President, Frank Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reichenbach, Mrs. Katie Adams, Mrs. Susan A. Bechtel, Martha Landes, the Rev. Jacob Landes, Mrs. Vincent Alderfer, Warren Anders, Mrs. Stella Keyser, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Perry, the Rev. Henry M. Johnson and Mrs. George K. Bobb.

Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Haentze were among the guests at the annual physician's picnic of the staff at Roxborough Memorial hospital. The picnic was at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Schumann of Henneberg near Doylestown.

However, in the larger interest of defense, he says, espionage is justified, but only if it is for that moral purpose, and not for the purpose of aggression or other immoral act.

"As the goal is moral, so is the practice moral," he says.

In itself, he says, espionage is not ideal behavior. "It's dirty business. But war also is dirty business. Yet we are sometimes forced to defend ourselves."

Dr. Gordis says that like the making of armaments, espionage is part of the process of waging war. "In the abstract, it's immoral," he says.

"But so long as we recognize war as sometimes being legitimate, this is part of it, whether the war is cold or hot."

"Until nations accept the government of moral law, we will continue to live in an immoral climate which creates the tragic situation of having immoral acts for moral purposes."

NEWLYWEDS—Mr. and Mrs. George L. Gauger Jr. enter their car, following their marriage Saturday at St. Aloysius church, to proceed to their new home on Lutheran road, where a reception was held for members of their families. The bride is the former Gertrude Helene O'Toole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Toole, Pottstown RD 3. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gauger reside in Phoenixville.

George Gauger Jr, Gertrude H. O'Toole Speak Nuptial Vows Before 150 Guests

One hundred fifty guests attended the wedding of Gertrude Helene O'Toole and George L. Gauger Jr., Saturday afternoon in St. Aloysius Roman Catholic church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Toole, Pottstown RD 3. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gauger, Phoenixville RD 1.

Lucille Elias was organist for the double ring ceremony at which the Rev. John Heim officiated at 2 o'clock. Altar vases were filled with gladioli and carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in chantilly lace over taffeta, fashioned with a sabrina neckline trimmed with iridescent, wrist pointed sleeves and a fitted bodice. Alternating tiers of lace and tulle ruffles formed the floor length skirt.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was draped to a coronet of mother of pearl orange blossoms. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of white carnations with streamers.

Sister of the bride, Mrs. Walter Piekos, Douglassville RD 1, was matron of honor. Her full skirted gown of mint green chiffon was styled with a shirred bodice, satin yoke and cummerbund.

Her tiara of matching green was adorned with petals and a circular veil. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink carnations with streamers.

Mr. Piekos served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Jacob and Joseph Gauger, brothers of the bridegroom.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. O'Toole wore a dress and jacket of dusty blue lace with white accessories. Mrs. Gauger, mother of the bridegroom, chose a blue nylon dress and white accessories. Both had corsages of pink and white carnations.

Members of the family were entertained after the ceremony at the nuptial couple's new home on Lutheran road, Gilbertsville RD 1.

Mrs. Gauger was graduated from St. Pius X High school with the class of 1959 and is secretary-receptionist for Warren B. Zern, contractor. Mr. Gauger is employed at Boiler Engineering and Supply company, Phoenixville.

A surprise shower was given in honor of the bride at the home of Mrs. Earl Clemens, Douglassville, by her mother, Mrs. O'Toole and her sisters, Theresa O'Toole, Mrs. Clemens and Mrs. Piekos.

LEARN TO TYPE

There are many benefits

Basic typing ability can be mastered by teen-agers within a few weeks. And yet this skill, so easily acquired, will prove useful in work and pleasure throughout life. Indeed, typing is almost as essential today as the ability to drive a car. You will agree that such skills should be learned early in life.

Lopez' 2-Run Homer In 11th Inning Gives Yanks 6-4 Triumph Over Nats

NEW YORK (AP)—Hector Lopez lined a two-run homer into the lower right field seats in the 11th inning Sunday for a 6-4 New York Yankees victory over the Washington Senators.

The win was the first in extra innings this season for the Yankees, who had lost three overtime decisions before Sunday.

Mickey Mantle, who hit his sixth homer in the sixth inning, had singled with two out before Lopez broke up the game with his homer off loser Don Lee.

Washington, shut out by Bob Turley 3-0 for eight innings, came up with three in the ninth to chase Turley and send the game into

FASTEST RACE IN 44 YEARS IS EXPECTED

Hurtubise Seeks First Rookie Win in 33 Years

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., (AP)—The fastest field in the death-flirting event's 44-year history should hurtle to a new speed record in the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race Monday.

A Memorial day crowd of at least 200,000 jammed into the venerable "brickyard" may be treated to the most exciting 500 of all time as 33 drivers draw a bead on the present race record of 135.857 miles an hour.

The roaring charge of daredevil pilots and sleek, finely-tuned machines could produce the first rookie champion since 1927. The field qualified at a record average of 144.07, compared with the previous high of 143.06 in 1958.

All eyes will be on the lavender and purple car driven by 27-year-old Jim Hurtubise, who carries into his first 500 start a new four-lap record of 149.606 mph and a one-lap mark of 149.601 set in last Sunday's qualifications. No rookie has won since George Souders' victory 33 years ago.

HOWEVER, BURIED in the eighth starting row, Hurtubise of Lennox, Calif., will have to drive down three former champions including last year's winner, Roger Ward, among a half dozen seasoned favorites.

Ward, who set the current record last year is in the leadoff trio of the 11-three-car rows which will burst into snarling action shortly after speedway owner Tony Hulman dramatically pronounces: "Gentlemen, start your engines."

Holding the pole position is Eddie Sachs, Centre Valley, Pa., making his fourth 500 start, while in the middle of the first row is Jim Rathmann, Miami, Fla., 11 times a speedway starter and runner-up in 1952, 1957 and last year.

Jim Rathmann Friday night was named favorite in the race by members of the champion 100-mile-an-hour club, composed of former finishers.

OTHER FORMER winners include Troy Ruttman (1952) of Dearborn, Mich., and Jimmy Bryan (1958) of Phoenix, Ariz., starting in the sixth (second row) and 10th (fourth row) positions, respectively.

Bryan, who was left at the post last year because of clutch trouble, will drive the lightest and shortest car in the race, a yellow Metal-Cal special. This has a horizontal engine, designed by George Salihi who also built the Belond Special which won the 1957 and 1958 races.

Other hell-bent-for-grease veterans who may get the checkered victory flag include Tony Bettenhausen, the "dean" of the starters with 13 previous speedway appearances, and Johnny Thomson, third place winner last year who is making his eighth start.

Bettenhausen, 43, from Tinley Park, Ill., has won more championship races since world war II than any other driver. Thomson, 38, Boyertown, Pa., is regarded by colleagues as the most courageous driver in the business.

Hurtubise, Coast Guard veteran who came up from the dusty competition of county fair tracks, has been racing big league only since last September. However, he has been called the "new Vukovich" after his startling qualifying performance.

Pinson's Homer Gives Reds 4-2 Win Over Braves

CINCINNATI (AP)—Vada Pinson's two-run, ninth inning homer gave Cincinnati a 4-2 victory over Milwaukee Sunday, making it two games in succession the Reds have tripped the Braves with a ninth inning circuit shot.

Ed Bailey's grand slam homer Friday defeated the Braves 9-5.

Young Jay Hook tamed the Braves' slugers with a seven-hitter that enabled Cincinnati to replace Milwaukee third place in the National League standings.

Carlton Willey, whose two victories this year were at the Reds' expense, gave up a single to Edie Kasko in the ninth before Pinson's decisive poke.

Building Golfers In Tuneup Match With Harrisburg

Ten members and guests of the Builders Industries exchange traveled to Harrisburg's Colonial country club to participate in a pre-season golf match with 35 members of the Harrisburg exchange.

The outing was not a competition but a warmup for the regular season that will see the builders from the same two areas, plus Baltimore and Reading groups vie in four regular season events.

The first tournament is scheduled Friday, June 24 at the Reading country club. The four groups will compete on the Brookside country club course Friday, Sept. 16.

J. Russell Keim, 1147 East Schuykill road, will captain the Pottstown team again this year. He is charged with the formation of the various foursomes.

In the Harrisburg competition Mike Ripnack, 816 North Charlotte street, was second in gross points with 94, while Jim Wilke, 841 Logan street, also broke 100.

Following the match the entire group enjoyed dinner at the clubhouse.

Rain Slows Record Siege In PIAA Championships

UNIVERSITY PARK, (AP)—The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association crowned its 1960 champions in track and field, golf, and tennis in rain-plagued events on Penn State university's campus Saturday.

This was the lineup at the winners' circle after the annual tournament ended:

Golf — Jay Siegel of Lower Merion high school, who shot a 54-hole total of 213.

Tennis — Kent Bauer, Erie, and Dennis Koch, Allentown, co-champions in singles, Bruce Bear and John Plakans, Lancaster McCaskey, Joel, and Peter Myers and high school, Cheltenham high school, co-champions in doubles.

TRACK AND FIELD — District One in class A and District Three in class B competition. Siegel, a 16-year-old Junior, finished six strokes ahead of Jack Solanik of Penn Hills. King Knox, of Manheim Township, was third with a 221.

The defending champion's role proved a hard luck one for Ron Reitz, of Conrad Weiser high. He shot a final round 83 for a total of 241 to finish 24th in a field of 25 finalists. His score last year was 215.

THE WEATHER put the damper on what was expected to be a record-shattering highlight of the track and field event—the mile run in Class A.

Joe Thomas of Uniontown, who won last year's title in 4:27.6, won the race again in 4:29.0. But his time was hampered by the treacherously wet track.

Thomas finished just ahead of Henry Horn, of Lancaster's McCaskey high, whose time was 4:30.4.

The State record, which can be set only at the annual PIAA meet is 4:25.

PACED BY Haverford and Norristown high schools, District One had 92 5/14ths points, the highest total in memory for the 34-year-old meet. Official records, however, are not kept on district totals. District One had nine first places and six seconds.

District Three, with six first, had 76 1/2 points to win class B Columbia, Cornwall and Camp Hill accounted for 52 of the points.

Two records were set in Class B. Dick Hart of Morrisville, threw the shot 57 feet 10 inches, beating the record set by his brother, Bob, in 1958. Bob, now a guard on the Penn State varsity football team, had thrown the shot 57 feet 7 1/2 inches that year. Dick Hart also finished second in the discus.

Another class B record was set by Gene McCleary, of Cornwall high, who threw the discus 164 feet 9 inches, breaking his own record of 162 feet one-half inch last year.

McCleary was perhaps the outstanding athlete at the meet. Of the 15 points Cornwall high collected, McCleary earned 13. He was second in the shot and second in the pole vault.

A third record was set in class A. Gene Meckley, of Kane high, won the pole vault with a jump of 13 feet 3 1/4 inch. The old mark was 12 feet 11 inches, set by Bib McNulty, of Ridley Township in 1957.

There was only one double winner at the meet. He was Don Webster, of Kennett Square. He won the class A 220-yard dash in 22.1 and the 440-yard dash in 49.4. Webster had won the 440 last year.

The order of District finishes in class A was District One, 95 5/14; District Seven, 52 5/14; Three, 31 5/14; Six, 15 5/14; Eleven, 11 5/14; Four, 9 1/2; Nine, 5; Ten, 3 5/14; Eight, 2; Five, 6 7/8; Two, 0.

The class A high school team leaders were McCaskey high, 18 points; Mt. Lebanon, 14 6/7; Haverford, 13; Norristown, 12; Lansdowne-Aldan, 11; Kennett Square, 10; Pennsbury-Yardley, 10.

Cards Win by 4-1, Bump SF Into First-Place Tie

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals knocked the San Francisco Giants into a tie with Pittsburgh for first place by scoring a 4-1 victory Sunday in a game shortened to five innings because of rain.

The Pirates moved up by beating Philadelphia 8-5. Larry Jackson, who gained his fourth straight complete-game victory to even his record at 5-5, started the Cardinals' three-run rally in the fifth inning with a single. Sam Jones, who walked five, was kayoed in that frame and suffered his fourth loss against five victories.

Daryl Spencer drove in three of the four St. Louis runs. After Jackson singled in the fifth, Joe Cunningham walked. Bill White bounced into a force play at second, but Jackson scored when Bob Nieman also forced a runner at second. Nieman continued to second base on Don Blasingame's wild throw to first base.

Following a walk to Ken Boyer, Bud Byerly relieved Jones and wild-pitched the runners to second and third. Spencer's single then scored two more runs.

The Giants tallied in the third on consecutive singles by Joe Amalfitano, Willie Mays and Willie McCovey. The Cardinals tied it in the fourth on Nieman's double and Spencer's single.

Jackson struck out three, walked none and yielded six hits. Jones allowed four hits and fanned two.

By winning the series, two games to one, the Cardinals closed their home stand with a 6-3 record. For the season the Redbirds are 15-6 at home, 2-15 on the road.

Dodgers Cop 4-0 Win Over Cubs, Snider Clouts 2

CHICAGO (AP)—Two home runs by slump-ridden Duke Snider supported the sharp pitching of southpaw Johnny Podres and powered the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 4-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs Sunday before 24,214.

Snider, who came into the game with a .197 average, slammed a three-run homer off starter Don (No-Hit) Cardwell in the fourth inning and added his fourth of the season with none on in the sixth inning.

The two homers gave Snider a career total of 358, one less than Johnny Mize, who ranks ninth among the all-time sluggers.

Podres, winning his fourth against as many losses, was in command all the way. He struck out four and walked two but became ill after pitching eight innings and Larry Sherry finished up. Podres gave up five hits Sherry none.

EARLY SCORES PREVAIL FOR 8-5 TRIUMPH

Law Wins 7th With Aid From Reliever Green

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Right-hander Vern Law, getting batting and pitching help from reliever Fred Green, won his seventh game Sunday as the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Philadelphia 8-5.

The Pittsburgh victory, coupled with San Francisco's 4-1 loss in a five-inning, rain-shortened game at St. Louis, moved the Pirates into a first-place tie with the Giants.

Green, a 28-year-old southpaw, came on in the seventh and shut the door on the rallying Phillies by striking out pinch hitter B.G. Smith with two men on after Roberto Clemente's spectacular catch of Pancho Herrera's sinking liner had saved a pair of runs.

Then Green gave himself some additional working room by smashing his second homer of the season in the eighth inning. It was the sixth consecutive loss for the Phils.

Law held a 6-0 lead until the fifth when the Phillies scored three runs on a homer by Johnny Callison after back-to-back singles by Ted Lepcio and Jim Coker. Tony Curry hit a homer for the Phillies in the sixth and Ken Walter blasted one in the eighth.

Billy Mazaroski smashed his eighth homer — one more than he hit last year — to ignite a four-run Pittsburgh rally in the second.

EVER HAPPEN TO YOU? by BLAKE

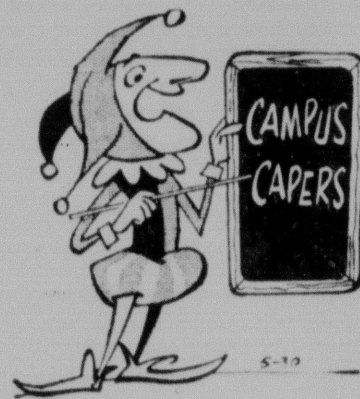

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

CAMPUS WITS continue to dazzle their elders. Consider if you will these nuggets, all mined from a single issue of the ebullient U. of Texas Ranger:

1. HE: I feel as if we were engaged.
SHE: Yes, and you've got to stop it.
2. REAL ESTATE AGENT: Now this house I'm about to show you is without a flaw.
HARVARD GRAD: What do you walk on?
3. "Francis, how can you write anything with all the rockets' red glare and those bombs bursting in air?"
Eli Whitney to his wife: "Keep your cotton-pickin' hands off my gin!"

Here's a catch question the kids are passing around in school corridors: "Which has the more bones in its neck: a mouse or a giraffe?" The answer, believe it or not, is that each has exactly the same number: Seven.

Nazarene Church Pastor Warns Against Presumption On God

Royersford war veterans, guests at the morning service in the Church of the Nazarene Sunday, heard the Rev. R. E. Zollinhofer, pastor, declare that "God will bestow His blessing on this nation only if we give Him His place."

Members of Capt. Harris Buckwalter American Legion post and Royersford post VFW attended the worship in a body.

Rev. Zollinhofer told the congregation that from the beginning God has blessed America, through wars, civil war and storm and strife.

"However," he warned "to presume on God and expect Him to bless this great nation without giving God His rightful place is to ask for disaster."

"In the turbulent days ahead," he asserted, "if we are to see God's blessing on this nation, we will have to give Him His place, first, at the head of our government, second, at the center of the family circle and third, in the individual heart."

"Eventually every great nation grows or falls at the grass roots. Let the individual make Christ 'Lord of All' and the family will."

"If the nation makes him Great God, our King, then He will bless America with peace and bounty."

The choir sang "The World Needs a Friend Like Jesus," and Mrs. Ralph E. Diffenderfer sang a solo, "God Bless America," before the pastor's message.

This morning the VFW post and American Legion post and Friendship and Humane Fire companies will combine for the annual memorial service at Fernwood cemetery beginning with a parade from the Humane firehouse, forming at 9 a. m., and moving at 9:30 a. m.

The Rev. Zollinhofer will also be the speaker for the Memorial services for the veterans. The Rev. John B. Bergstresser, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, will be the speaker for the firemen. Both pastors are veterans of World War II.

GULF

Or where the hurrying night-winds
Pale Winter's robes have spread
Above their narrow palaces,
In the cities of the dead.

YOCUM, Frances- In fond remembrance of Mother, who left us June 4, 1943.
Her memory is as dear today
Son WILLIAM and IRMA

YODER, Alan- In loving memory of our son:
A sweet flower, too pure to stay,
God in His wisdom took him away.
Not from our hearts, not from our love,
But to dwell with the angels in Heaven above.
Sadly missed by Mother, Father, Sisters and Brothers

YOCUM, Sgt. William F.- In loving memory of our son:
To have to live and then to part is the greatest sorrow of our heart.
Sadly missed by Mother & Dear Ones

YODER, Cynthia- In loving memory of our daughter:
Dear is the grave where our darling laid,
Sweet is the memory that never will fade
How little soul, so pure and true,
Will blossom at the Saviour's feet.
No other friend in all this world,
Will be as true to you.
For all her loving kindness,
She asked nothing in return,
If all the world deserts you,
I will be true to you.
All we can do dear mother,
is place flowers on your grave,
and leave behind a token of love.
To the best mother God ever made.

ZIEGLER, Mary- In loving memory of our dear Mother who passed away April 12, 1937.
You can only have one mother,
Patient, kind and true.
No other friend in all this world,
Will be as true to you.
For all her loving kindness,
She asked nothing in return,
If all the world deserts you,
I will be true to you.
All we can do dear mother,
is place flowers on your grave,
and leave behind a token of love.

Vivien Leigh Agrees to Costar In Movie With Sir Laurence

LONDON (AP) — American movie-maker George Jessel is trying to get Sir Laurence Olivier and his estranged wife, Vivien Leigh to costar in a movie.

Jessel, visiting London, said Saturday night he had telephoned Miss Leigh in New York and she had agreed to star in the movie "Mary Todd, Kentucky Belle" —

JOAN PLOWRIGHT

Jessel said he plans to ask Sir Laurence to play the role of Lincoln, opposite his wife, when the movie goes into production in Hollywood early next year.

"Vivien seems to have strong hopes that Sir Laurence might accept the role I am offering him," Jessel said. "At the end of my telephone conversation she asked me to pass on her love to him."

Miss Leigh said in New York a week ago that her husband had asked her for a divorce so that he could marry British actress Joan Plowright.

Sinatra 'Digs' Saki, Jap Girls

TOKYO (AP) — Frank Sinatra arrived in Japan Wednesday with songwriter James Van Heusen for a visit. Sunday, Stars and Stripes, the U.S. Army newspaper, quoted him on his observations to date: "I dig the sake and the kids. I also dig the women. We—Frank and Van Heusen — had to travel around the world to learn that girls can be girls."

"Japanese chicks don't have nicotine stains on their fingers. They don't wear trousers and you don't smell of canal No. 5 after shaking hands with them. I'm not interested in defending individuals. If the boot fits—c'est la vie."

Miss Germany Picked

BADEN-BADEN Germany (AP) —Ingrun Helgard Moeckel, an 18-year-old music student, was elected Miss Germany 1960 Sunday. She barely speaks German since she spent most of her life in New Zealand. Blonde, blue-eyed Miss Moeckel is 5 feet 10 and the customary measurements are 34-22½-36.

Wedding On Stage

Ballerina Lolita San Miguel and concert master Raymond Gniwewk stand before a municipal judge in Detroit, Mich., and take their marriage vows. It was the first real life on stage wedding in the 77-year history of the Metropolitan Opera. They had what must have been the highest priced musical accompaniment of any wedding ever—a 60-piece Metropolitan Opera orchestra, the chorus of six of the Met's leading singers.

Eddie Fisher Signs Wife to Contract

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Eddie Fisher will become a movie producer with the world's highest-paid actress—his wife—under contract.

Columbia Pictures announced it signed a contract with Fisher to produce two movies within the next two years. Elizabeth Taylor will star in one. Fisher, whose Ramrod Productions Co. produced his TV show for six years, plans to keep on with his singing career in addition to his new producing chores. Miss Taylor, who rates one million dollars per picture, did not disclose what her husband will pay her.

Judge Reverses Zoning Decision

Establishment of a boat club on a tract in Upper Providence Township was approved by Judge E. Arnold Forrest in an opinion which reverses a decision of that township's Zoning board of Adjustment.

The opinion states the increase in traffic may have a slightly adverse effect upon property values of neighboring owners.

Concerning an objection by the township supervisors that the extension of Schuylkill Expressway may be built in the vicinity, Judge Forrest comments: "... owners are not to be deprived of the enjoyment of their land merely because of road by a 16-foot wide dirt lane, which is surfaced partially with stone.

In reversing the board, and granting the special exception, Judge Forrest also provides the "board of adjustment may attach reasonable conditions to the grant of the special exception."

The opinion states the increase in traffic may have a slightly adverse effect upon property values of neighboring owners.

such a contingency.

"The Schuylkill River is one of the very limited number of waterways in this County which are sizeable enough to be useful for boating. The use of the applicant's land for boating and other recreational purposes appears to this Court to be, in the words of the zoning ordinance, 'most appropriate.'"
